

operations and maintenance. This “cradle-to-grave” service is how they minimize client risk and guarantee project success. The company sees this approach as the future of construction.

“We’re a true one stop shop,” Ian says. “We can provide the financing, the design, building services and can then operate the building. We also have specialist services like construction sciences, facilities services, furniture and equipment services, intelligent building design and maintenance, mechanical, electrical and IT

