

Positive outcomes for all

One more recent example of EllisDon's contribution to Vancouver is the work they did for the Joseph & Rosalie Segal Family Health Centre. Located on the dense Vancouver General Hospital site, that facility is valued at $58 million, and is the largest purpose-built facility of its kind in the province for people with mental health and substance-use issues.

The Joseph & Rosalie Segal Family Health Centre includes eight-storeys and 100 beds, and consolidates inpatient, outpatient, and outreach mental health and addiction services into one building – providing clients with “a seamless continuum of care.” EllisDon's innovative design also allows for the built-in capacity for the future addition of two extra floors.
